In the late 1960s, in a period of civil turmoil, Reverend J. Austell Hall had a vision to preserve a portion of the community that was being threatened by the City of San Francisco's urban renewal of the Fillmore district. From this vision, Rev. Hall created Freedom West with the objective to create a safe, affordable community, protecting cultural diversity, and providing a source of social and economic empowerment through co-operative ownership that would last for generations.

While the community is in place and positive strides have been made over the years, the resources to sustain a thriving community has not materialized. The truth is, we've spent far too long waiting for Reverend Hall's vision to be realized and now is the time for change.

Freedom West 2.0 is a proposed partnership between Freedom West Homes Corp, MacFarlane Partners and Avanath Capital Management that will develop an inclusive community reimagined for the 21st century. Freedom West 2.0 will be a place of prosperity and pride. A place where all people can thrive, not just today, but for generations to come.
